

GUNS BARK ANEW IN JACKSON, KY. POLITICAL FIGHT

Two Men Dead and Four in Jail as Result of Sunday Crime

Jackson, Ky., April 20.—(AP)—Two men are dead and four others are in jail after another burst of gunfire in "Bloody Breathitt" county where enmity exists between two political factions, dating back to the bitter 1938 Barkley-Chandler Democratic senatorial primary.

County Jailer William Combs, 41, was shot down yesterday, apparently from ambush, on the outskirts of this mountain county seat, and shortly afterwards, one of his turnkeys, Benton Sizemore, 25, was killed by a bullet in his back as he approached the scene of the Combs slaying.

The four suspects, held in Winchester, Ky., were listed by Clark County Jailer Omer Booth as Rudell, Boone and Pete Combs and Arthur Lee. The three Combses, Jackson Police Chief A. S. Sizemore said, are related to the slain Breathitt county jailer.

Booth said Pete Combs and Lee were picked up in a Winchester restaurant at the request of Jackson authorities. Rudell and Boone Combs were taken into custody at Jackson and brought here for safekeeping. Their commitment papers, Booth added, signed by Breathitt Circuit Judge Chester A. Bach, stated they were charged with murder.

Fourth Death This Year

William Combs and Benton Sizemore were the third and fourth men to die by bullets in Breathitt county this year in what appeared to be related incidents having as a background the campaign in which Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley was unsuccessfully opposed for his seat by A. B. Chandler, then governor, now United States senator by appointment.

Although Chief Sizemore, a distant kinsman of Benton, said a patrolman Saturday "broke up" a fight between Jailer Combs and one of the four suspects, it was recalled Jailer Combs was indicted for murder in the pre-primary gun battle Aug. 4, 1938, in which Lee Combs, no relation, was killed; his brother, Louis, Chandler's county chairman, and Sheriff Deaton were wounded.

Recall Other Deaths

The charge against Jailer Combs, Barkley's county chairman, later was dismissed.

Last February, Louis Combs was killed and Fred Deaton, one armed son of Sheriff Deaton, was shot and killed, but Chief Sizemore expressed belief it had no connection with the "bad feeling" engendered by the pre-primary battle.

However, two cousins of Louis Combs' wife were arrested on murder charges in connection with Wilson Deaton's death.

U. S. Shipping at Highest Level It Has Had in Years

Washington, April 29.—(AP)—Disclosure that American shipping has reached its highest point in 10 years despite neutrality act restrictions coincided today with the creation of a special neutrality unit in the justice department.

Attorney General Jackson assigned to the new agency "responsibility for control" in prosecutions relating to neutrality, foreign enlistments, treason, sedition, espionage, sabotage "or kindred offenses".

The unit will work in "active contact" with guardians of neutrality in the state, war, navy and treasury departments, but will not supersede or overlap the work of the Federal Bureau of Investigation or the civil liberties unit.

Treasury Figures

The White House said creation of the unit was intended to provide better coordination in prosecuting violations of laws designed to keep the country out of war and to assist rather than detract from any activities of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, told reporters the unit was set up as a result of conversations between President Roosevelt and Jackson and would provide a central point for coordinating prosecution of cases in a manner that has not been done in the past.

The treasury gave out figures to show that more American ships were carrying more freight to foreign ports than at any time in a decade.

In January and February a total of 1,042 American vessels cleared for foreign destinations with 2,562,000 tons of cargo. The comparable figures for January and February, 1939, were 932 ships carrying 2,264,000 tons.

ACCOMPLISHMENT CARRIER-SALES BOYS REWARDED

37 Young Employees of Evening Telegraph "See Chicago"

The excitement of two big days in Chicago—including many thrilling "first" experiences—will remain unforgettable for days to come in the minds of 37 wide-eyed young Dixon Evening Telegraph carrier-salesmen, who spent the past week end in the glamorous metropolis. The trip, brimming with thrills, was planned by the Telegraph management as a climax to a highly-successful salesmanship contest, in which the boys were judged on the number of new subscriptions secured.

Points in The Telegraph trade area extending from Brookville to Walnut and from Dixon to Rochelle, were represented in the holiday group. Several were experiencing their first bus ride; others were making their first trip to Chicago, and few had visited the various sights scheduled on the itinerary.

The outing began Saturday morning when automobiles began collecting passengers throughout the area. Boarding a palatial bus, chartered especially for the occasion from the Black Hawk lines, carrier-salesmen from Dixon, Ohio, Walnut, Oregon, Ashton, Franklin Grove, Brookville, and Polo left The Telegraph building at noon, and were joined soon afterward at Rochelle by additional passengers from Rochelle, Amboy, Compton, and Paw Paw.

Courtesy of Paul Johnson, manager of the Black Hawk Lines, and Rex Little, the driver assigned for the party, added much to the pleasure en route. The company routes its line from Springfield through Peoria and Dixon to Freeport, and also serves the southern part of the state.

At Radio Station

By 3 o'clock, the carrier-salesmen had arrived at radio station WENR, in the Merchandise Mart, key station of the National Broadcasting company, where they heard the program, "The Tired Business Man's Matinee". Featured were the Cadets quartet, an orchestra, and a number of soloists, with Ransom Sherman acting as master of ceremonies. A tour of several of the studios was another treat for the enthusiastic young sightseers.

Queer marine creatures, swimming about in tanks arranged to portray their national habitat; exotic and colorful creatures from distant parts of the earth, as well as the more common fish of North America meant a fascinating hour at the John G. Shedd Aquarium, before the party proceeded to the Hotel Atlantic, where special accommodations had been arranged by the manager.

DISEASE, COLD, HUNGER ATTACK WAR REFUGEES

Adequate Food, Clothing, Medical Aid Lacking in Central Norway

Near Namsos, Norway, April 29.—(AP)—The terrible plight of war refugees who have sought safety in the snow-covered mountains of central Norway is becoming more evident daily, as cold hunger and disease take their toll. Tragic scenes are enacted nightly in the region when refugees slip down from the mountains into valley communities to poke through the ashes of their homes seeking lost possessions.

Mountain huts, especially in the Namsos district, are so crowded with refugees that they must take turns sleeping indoors.

This is the district where bombing planes have caused the greatest civilian damage in proportion to the population. During the first German bombing of Namsos, the region's largest sawmill was set fire and the entire populace turned out to help extinguish it.

Life Went to Pieces

They were partly successful until wave after wave of bombers returned, sending the Norwegians running in panic. Some sought refuge in cellars but most fled helter-skelter into the mountains without pausing to take along proper clothing to protect them against cold.

The town's life went to pieces. It was reported no civilians were killed by the bombs, but none of the debris has been searched yet and inhabitants said it would be a marvel if no dead are found.

Mountain peasants now are sharing their meagre possessions with the refugees. Highly valued cows, pigs and even horses are being slaughtered for food.

The peasants not only must care for refugees but they must help feed allied troops in the vicinity.

Woodhull, Ill., April 29.—(AP)—George and Edward Sheller have succeeded in getting equal billing until the last day of their high school career.

Twin athletes and scholars, they co-starred in track, baseball and basketball for four years. Then, to top it off, they were named co-valedictorians of the June graduation class, their four-year classroom rating being the same.

Telegraph Carrier-Salesmen Inspect Sleeper Airliner

Thirty-seven Dixon Evening Telegraph carrier-salesmen were rewarded with a two-day visit in Chicago Saturday and Sunday for outstanding accomplishments in a recent sales contest. The boys are shown above just after they had inspected a giant United Air Lines mammoth sleeper plane at the Chicago municipal airport. Each of the lads was permitted to sit in the pilot's seat and to see the scores of instruments by which the huge airliner is navigated. Other pictures of the boys' Chicago visit will be found on page 2.

Gannett Charges Roosevelt With Oath Violations

Philadelphia, April 29.—(AP)—Frank Gannett, candidate for the Republican nomination for president, drew a parallel today between the tyranny of pre-Revolutionary days and "the stranglehold" he said the Roosevelt administration was "steadily tightening" on the country.

Speaking to the Republican Luncheon Club of Southeastern Pennsylvania in an address broadcast nationally (MBS), the Rochester publisher discussed the complaints drawn up against George III by Thomas Jefferson and said: "The acts described by Jefferson were committed by royalists, Tories and reactionaries."

"We have new designations for the people who are committing the same acts today. We call them communists, nazis and new dealers."

"Never in our history until now has our form of government been endangered."

"It (the Constitution) has been sidetracked by an administration which has taken upon itself the functions of lawmaker and judge. A multitude of bureau issue regulations which never had the sanction of Congress which makes the laws."

"I charge that the new dealers do not believe in our form of government or system of free enterprise. I charge that President Roosevelt has made assault after assault on our Constitution which, under oath, he said he would preserve, protect and defend. I charge that his attempt to pack the Supreme Court and thus destroy the very keystone of the Constitution—destroy this great charter of our liberties—was in violation of his oath of office."

Germans Threaten Allied Force in Central Norway: Reach Vital Railway Line

The War Today!

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

The twenty-first day of the battle of Norway finds the Germans occupying the southern (and most important) part of the country strongly and, possession being nine points of the law in war as well as in civil life, the Anglo-French allies are faced with a formidable task in ousting them. The struggle continues to center on possession of the strategic port and rail-head of Trondheim. Control of this great gateway in the broken coast of Norway, and of the railways leading from it, means domination of the whole central and southern portion of the country.

The nazis last week capitalized the great advantage they obtained by their surprise invasion and strengthened their hold on the south considerably. In some instances this was at the expense of the allies in land engagements growing out of the maneuvering for position in preparation for the big showdown.

There was no major clash, however, and neither side encountered disaster or scored striking victory. But the week-end the allies had pulled up their socks and checked the nazi advances towards Trondheim in most places.

One cardinal point seems to me to have become increasingly clear—that the invasion will stand or fall in accordance with the degree of air control which the Germans are able to maintain.

Thus far the nazis have maintained their air supremacy in Norway. The success of their invasion

Chicago Corporation to Move to Franklin Grove

Franklin Grove is to have a new industry, E. R. Buck, real estate and insurance representative of that place, announced today. The Shine-Sac Corporation of Chicago will move its factory to Franklin Grove within a short time, having negotiated for the occupancy of a building which is to become its permanent location.

The Shine-Sac Corp. was founded by the late Henry A. Mix of Chicago in 1930, and its products were introduced to the public at the World's Fair in Chicago in 1933. The firm manufactures a specialty line of household commodities and expects to be settled in the new location in the Clark Robison building on the main street of Franklin Grove by July 1st.

"Our conclusion is that even that margin of success justifies the operation in suitable cases", Dr. Erner said, however.

Girl's Killer Not Allowed to Attend Her Funeral Today

Abington, Pa., April 29.—(AP)—Officials refused 16-year-old Robert Heinemann's request to attend the funeral today of the girl schoolmate he is accused of slaying and disclosed they will seek a first-degree murder verdict against the boy—possibly with the death penalty.

Pretty 16-year-old Edith Snyder, victim of the shot allegedly fired by young Heinemann, goes to her grave in a white lace dance frock with a blue bow. It is the dress she wore last November at the first formal party of a dancing academy both she and Robert attended.

Meanwhile, District Attorney Frederick B. Smillie of Montgomery county said the state might seek the death penalty for the handsome black-haired youth and will "meet the temporary insanity issue when it is presented in court."

No Motive Given

Smillie's comment yesterday followed statements by former State Senator Theodore Lane Bean, defense counsel, that his client "is an unusual boy x x x an abnormal boy". The youth's father also has been quoted as saying Robert "is living in a world apart from ours". Although Bean has not announced his defense plans he said

Tea Became Informal

(By The Associated Press)

Columbus, O., Apr. 29.—Jack Bricker and two pet white rats broke the formality of a tea at the governor's mansion.

The guests came to greet Miss Marion Martin, Republican national Committeewoman from Maine. They were chatting quietly when Gov. John W. Bricker's son came down stairs with the rats hidden under his coat. The rats slipped out. Women scrambled atop chairs. Men scrambled after the rats. The tea became an informal affair.

Surgeons Fashion "Window" in Inner Ear as Treatment for Otosclerosis

Philadelphia, April 29.—(AP)—Successful results from an operation that fashions a "window" deep in the inner ear for the treatment of otosclerosis, a common type of deafness, was reported today by surgeons of the Temple University medical school.

In a two-year period, Dr. Matthew S. Erner, professor of otology reported 21 patients who underwent the operation experienced immediate improvement in their hearing. In 15, however, the improvement lasted only eight or nine weeks, after which the hearing returned to pre-operation condition.

"Our conclusion is that even that margin of success justifies the operation in suitable cases", Dr. Erner said, however.

In normal ears, sound waves shake the eardrum, which passes the vibration through a gain of tiny bones—the "hammer", "anvil" and "stirrup"—through a window into the inner ear. The vibrations stir a fluid, the lymph, in which float the hair-like nerve endings which send the message to the brain.

In otosclerosis, a bony overgrowth fastens the "stirrup" solid in its window so that vibrations cannot get past.

The operation, devised by several European surgeons and Dr. Julius Lempert of New York, involves drilling a tiny window into the labyrinth, which houses the endings of the hearing nerve. The eardrum is cut partly from its moorings and fitted over the new window so that its vibrations can agitate the lymph directly.

STATE FINANCE DIRECTOR, DEPT. AIDES NOT PAID

Auditor Barrett Holds Up Checks for Nudelman and Employees

Springfield, Ill., April 29.—(AP) The Stelle-Horner political feud intensified today as leaders of both House assembled for strategy conferences to determine their courses in the special session of the legislature which convenes tomorrow.

Today's developments were:

1. Finance Director Samuel L. Nudelman disclosed that he had not received his pay check although other state employees were paid Friday and Saturday of last week. Nudelman said that 1,100 other employees in his department had not received their checks either.

2. Rep. Robert J. Branson, Republican House floor leader asserted that a resolution to investigate party campaign fund contributions would be introduced at the special session by Republicans if no investigation was proposed by Democrats.

3. The rumor spread in the statehouse that Edward J. Barrett, state auditor who was defeated for the Democratic renomination to his post in the recent primary, might run independently for election this fall, either as auditor to succeed himself or as governor.

"Rebels" to Confer

Barrett was scheduled to confer with Lieutenant Governor John Stelle and State Rep. Benjamin S. Adamowski in a conference at which decisions were expected on whether Stelle would renew his claim to the acting governorship when the special session convenes, whether Barrett would issue pay checks for Nudelman and employees of his department, and whether Barrett or his unsuccessful running mates will make independent office races.

An aide of Auditor Barrett pointed out that the pay checks being held up were not technically due until May 1 and said a final decision by Barrett as to whether they would be released was being awaited.

The pay check development was an outgrowth of Stelle's "firing" of Nudelman when the lieutenant governor attempted to substitute for Governor Horner.

Nudelman commented with obvious sarcasm that the situation had him "terribly worried," and added:

"The whole thing doesn't make sense—that they would hold up one code department and pay others."

1,500 Year Term Possible Penalty for Geo. Scalise

New York, April 29.—(AP)—Already facing a possible sentence of 1,500 years in prison for alleged extortion, George Scalise, 44, former president of the Building Service Employees International Union (A. F. of L.) became the subject of a federal income tax investigation today.

Investigators of the intelligence unit of the bureau of internal revenue were looking into the reported payment of $18,000 to Scalise by a physician who treated union patients.

Scalise was indicted last week on 52 counts for extortion of nearly $100,000 from building operators and union employees. He resigned as union head after being indicted.

The income tax investigation, it was disclosed, came as a routine matter in such cases "where open charges are made of thousands of dollars having come into the possession of a person without much possibility of its having been reported."

John Kadel, Scalise's attorney, said he would "gladly" turn over the former union leader's books and records to the government "when they are called for."

"The government should take some steps, however, to get the tax reports of the persons who allegedly did the extorting and then claimed immunity on the ground that they turned the money over to Scalise", Kadel said.

Springfield, Ill., April 29.—(AP)—The Springfield city council is expected to vote on whether the city will adopt daylight saving time tomorrow.

Springfield's clocks, as in the past, ran on uninterrupted yesterday morning in dozens of other Illinois cities timepieces were made to tell the earlier time.

THE REPTILE AGE

Scientists say reptiles appeared on earth about 500,000,000 years ago, and that the last of their giant races became extinct about 100,000,000 years ago. A few warm-blooded animals appeared on earth during that time, but they were unimportant and were dominated by the reptilian giants.

Latin is studied by more pupils in American high schools than are all other foreign languages combined.

Hearing on Libel Suit Against News Colum is Blocked

Cleveland, April 29—(AP)—A scheduled deposition hearing on a libel suit brought by Rep. Martin L. Sweeney (D-Ohio) over statements in a syndicated Washington column was blocked today by the VCleveland congressman.

Sweeney, pleading that his presence in congress was necessary today and asking that no testimony be taken here until he "is released from his paramount duty to his country", obtained an injunction which restrained taking of depositions today.

The action was Sweeney's $250,000 suit against publishers of the Elyria (Ohio) Chronicle-Telegram. He had filed about 70 similar suits against other newspapers. Drew Pearson, co-author of the column, said this was the first time Sweeney had been summoned for testimony.

"We're going to continue to press for depositions in the District of Columbia and other areas," Pearson said. The next scheduled deposition hearing is May 6 in Washington in a suit against United Features Syndicate, distributors of the column.

Badger Pitcher Has Hard Luck Against Iowa

Chicago, April 29—(AP)—Wisconsin's Johnny Saxer qualified over the week-end as the hard luck guy of the Big Ten baseball campaign.

Saxer had allowed only six hits in two complete games until he met Iowa Saturday. He set the defending champions down with three hits, but lost in 10 innings, 4 to 3. His Badger teammates made eight errors behind him. Lady Luck accorded Iowa's Harold Haub a break in the opposite direction.

Haub needed no luck to defeat

Wisconsin on three hits Friday, 5-0, but he got credit for the Saturday triumph, too, as a relief harrier after taking over in the eighth inning. Thus he now has four victories and no losses for the season, giving him eight straight conference mound decisions in two years.

The double victory pushed Iowa to the top of the race with four wins in five contests. The Hawks' next test comes this week-end at home where they meet Chicago in a two-game series.

Illinois, co-leader with Wisconsin a week ago, slid into second place a half game behind the new pace-setter, by splitting a twin bill with Ohio State. The Bucks took the first game, 4 to 1, but were snowed under by a 16-hit barrage in the second contest, giving the Illini a 17-6 margin.

Michigan and Indiana finished all square in their week-end argument. Indiana took the Friday encounter, 4 to 3, and lost the Saturday game, 5 to 4.

Chicago finally found the victory column with a 2 to 1 edge over Purdue after losing the first game to the Boilermakers, 4 to 2. Outside the loop Minnesota defeated Luther and Northwestern defeated Notre Dame.

Eight non-conference games are on tap before the week-end's resumption of title play on five fronts. Today Purdue plays at Notre Dame, Indiana at Butler, and Nebraska at Minnesota. The Tuesday slate calls for Nebraska at Minnesota, Mich. State at Michigan and Springfield (Three-Eye League) at Illinois. Notre Dame goes to Michigan and Ohio State to Miami Wednesday.

Bund Libel Suit Against Newspaper is Rejected

Newton, N. J., April 29—(AP)—A $1,950,000 libel suit brought by the German-American Bund Auxiliary, Inc., of New Jersey against the Newark Ledger was thrown out of court by Circuit Judge Joseph G. Wolber today when the plaintiffs failed to appear.

Judge Wolber ordered the non-suit on motion of Harry Osborne, counsel for the newspaper, who asserted it was "an outrageous situation when the courts of this state are abused to harass this defendant".

Named with the Ledger as defendants were Samuel I. Newhouse, publisher, and Edwin F. Russell, associate publisher.

Miss Lucia W. Dement Ends Woman's Club Lecture Season

Through three great periods of transition, "brawn has turned to brains", as far as the medium of expression in art is concerned, members of the Dixon Woman's club were told Saturday afternoon. Their speaker was Miss Lucia W. Dement, head of the club's own art department and retired art lecturer and critic at Columbia university Teachers college, New York City.

In a 90-minute lecture on the subject, "From Arch to Skyscraper," Miss Dement reviewed 4,000 years of the history of architecture, from the period of early Greek and Roman temples to the towering skyscrapers of the present day—and added a hint of what might come next in the way of modern building. Her talk was generously illustrated with stereopticon scenes, including pictures she herself had taken while studying and traveling abroad.

The speaker has always been interested in Gothic architecture, she told her audience, her interest having been motivated early in life as an art teacher, when given the responsibility of acting as an assistant to her professor. The study, once begun, has become a lifelong interest to her, and an object of extensive research.

Three Periods

Referring to ancient architecture, Miss Dement stated "Altogether, its meaning is the dwellings of men and their temple." The three principal periods she discussed included:

1. Construction by man-power, with materials second in importance, and little machinery to be used. Example—the pyramids.
2. Materials succeed man-power in importance; machinery ranking third. Example—the Gothic cathedral.
3. Machinery succeeds materials; materials and man-power of secondary importance. Example—the modern skyscraper.

Among familiar illustrations chosen by Miss Dement were doorways of the members' own homes, usually formed by two posts and lintel; the stone railroad arches on First, Second and Third streets, which are examples of key-stone construction; the dome of the Lee county courthouse; the rose windows and buttress construction of the First Baptist church; and St. Luke's Episcopal church, which has been the club's meeting place throughout the year.

With F. A. Hanson assisting at the stereopticon machine, Miss Dement showed pictures of early Egyptian temples, constructed on the post and lintel plan; Greek temples, in which the same principle was amplified by beautiful Doric pillars; examples of Asia Minor art, later carried to Rome to be used in the construction of aqueduct, bridges, sewers, coliseums, basilicas, and baths.

Early Churches

The basilicas, she reminded her listeners, were originally law courts, but with the first Christians, the structures became models for churches, with the judge's box at the further end becoming the pulpit.

Also shown were pictures of the Sanctus Sophia church at Constantinople; medieval churches along the Rhine; the white cathedral in Italy with its leaning tower.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Let Us Call Forth Our Powers!

"Build America!" is the battle-cry of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States as it meets in its annual meeting today.

It is a stirring cry, the imperative to build, in the midst of a world which is using most of its energies to tear down.

The Chamber, a federation of business and industrial organizations including 1700 local bodies and thousands of individual firms, has set a magnificent goal for its sessions.

"New fields lie ahead—new fields for expansion, new fields for science and invention, new fields for production—opening wider vistas for the distribution of necessities, the comforts and luxuries of life to our entire population. New horizons beckon in education, in cultural development, in all those directions that will make for a better country in which to live."

So reads the Chamber's announcement, and it is true. These are our tasks, these our goals. The note is positive, the tone constructive. On such objectives all will agree, from John Lewis, president of the C. I. O. to W. Gibson Carey, Jr., the Chamber's president.

Ten bitter years have driven home the lesson to all of us that there is no stable prosperity even for the very rich unless the vast mass of the people are prosperous.

It is scarcely to be expected that the men meeting with the Chamber will suddenly agree that present methods of trying to attain the very goals they have set forth are ideal. They will certainly commend other paths than those now being traveled.

But the important thing is the goal. The important thing is that all agree on what it is desirable to achieve. And certainly such agreement on objectives ought to form a bond even between those who favor different means of reaching those objectives.

Sterile and ill-humored picking on business by government agencies will not help. Sterile and in-

SERIAL STORY

BET ON LOVE

BY CHARLES B. PARMER

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Sherry saddled her first entry. When her jockey suggested that he give Pepper Boy an easy ride, if the horse is getting beaten, Sherry orders him to ride to win.

CHAPTER IV

SHERRY BOND was standing in the infield, where she had gone to escape talkative friends in the clubhouse. She wanted to watch Pepper Boy's first race undisturbed; but Sam, the colt's blanket thrown over his shoulders, was growling:

"If that boy gets him off, fast-like, we got a chance, yes'm."

Pepper Boy had headed the line which centered, then dropped to a walk up to the gate. Now suddenly the colt stopped—15 paces behind the starting line. Spread out his legs, shook his head nervously. An assistant starter had run back, was jerking the colt's reins.

"That fool man—ain't got no business jerkin' a baby colt."

"Hush, Sam!"

Now she saw Madden soothe Pepper Boy—walk him into the starting stall—number one by the rail—but Pepper Boy didn't stop at the starting line with the other horses—he bolted through. Madden was turning him around, waving the assistant starter aside, was walking Pepper Boy back through the stall—turning him around again—all the other entries were on the line. Slowly—slowly—Madden walked Pepper Boy into his stall once more—halted him for a split second. The starting bell clanged.

"They're off!"

THE watching thousands cheered and yelled as the field of horses—a mass of moving color—surged forward. But Pepper Boy on the rail—the one black colt in the race—was stumbling—he was falling almost to his knees—Pepper Boy was left at the post!

"Oh, lawdy, lawdy!" Sam moaned.

The field was plunging down the backstretch in brilliant sunlight, the horses kicking up a dust cloud; and behind the mass of horses and riders, behind the dust, streaked her little black hope—running all alone.

Again the groom was mumbling at her side. "What's that, Sam?"

"You didn't give that jockey no discretion, Miss Sherry," he grumbled. "You should a-told Madden to qualify if he sees himself beat—then he wouldn't bust the little fellow's heart. Look, he's a-whip-pin' already!"

So Madden was. Here in the infield they could hear distinctly not only the snarling clump of hoofs, but also the sharp crack—crack!—crack! of Madden's bat on the horse's barrel. He was forcing him. Punishing him. Riding him to orders.

"He's a-bustin' the little feller's heart," Sam protested again.

"Oh, hush, Sam!" Sherry spoke it as a plea. Sam was right—she should have done as so many horsemen did—No, no, she was right! Always send your horse out to win. Suddenly she leaned forward, her hands clenched.

The field was stringing past the half-mile pole—a bay horse was leading by a length. The favorite, Sun Halo. Next, two horses lapped each other; there was a length opening, then came the remainder of the field, jumbled together. And Pepper Boy was running into that field—he had shot through the dust cloud—he was closing ground fast—he was stealing through on the rail—was alongside that mass of horses. They were passing the three-eighths pole—Pepper Boy had made up five lengths in three furlongs!

FASCINATED by this living drama of the track, Sherry felt herself breathing in excited little gasps. She even heard her groom mutter: "He sho' got class—yes, sah, he be a runnin' fool—if he kin only hold 'out!" Madden was still hugging the rail—was jamming the colt into a space no wider than a handkerchief—yes, he was on the rail and was saving ground as they went into the far turn.

"Lawdy, Miss Sherry, if Pepper Boy had a-got a even start, he'd sho' be spread-eagin' the field!"

The little black fellow was running neck and neck with two horses in the second division—now was pulling away from them; only three horses in front of him, and one of those, the third horse, running a bit wide as they turned toward the homestretch.

Sherry Bond could see Madden pointing Pepper Boy's nose at the space between that third horse and the rail—but that horse's jockey suddenly swerved over, took the rail himself, blocked Madden. Pepper Boy pulled out, was coming up, but the third horse shot ahead into a space between Sun Halo on the rail and the outside horse, a dark chestnut.

Madden was pocketed. Three horses in front of him, almost on a line, and no jockey would give way and let him through. Then Sherry saw him start a daring move—saw him pull out and start around those lead horses as they entered the stretch—a move no jockey would make unless he knew he was on a powerful stretch runner.

A wild roar went up from the stands—Sun Halo was still a half-length in front. The third horse was dropping back, the chestnut was running steadily—but a long shot, Pepper Boy, was coming like a house afire on the outside. He was burning up the track!

Pepper Boy was alongside the chestnut. Now the black was gaining on Sun Halo. The favorite—did he swerve then? Another roar from the stands—Pepper Boy was coming up to Sun Halo—the chestnut was out of it—now Pepper Boy was looking Sun Halo in the eye—and only a furlong to go!

"Look at the gray! Look at him coming!" Someone near Sherry shouted. For from the pack of horses a gray—No. 4 on his saddle blanket—Gray Star on the program—was shooting forward with reserve speed. Another stretch runner.

The favorite, Sun Halo, was done for; but Gray Star was coming on with a mighty burst of speed. Pepper Boy had left Sun Halo behind—but Gray Star was coming up fast outside of Pepper Boy—now he was at Pepper Boy's tail—now at his saddle blanket—now at his neck.

In that last 10 yards Sherry Bond saw Gray Star's rider lash down with his whip—saw Gray Star's white nose shoot forward—saw Madden jerk up his colt's head—now the noses were on a line—no, she'd swear Pepper Boy's nose was in front—

The black and the gray swept under the wire together. Behind them thundered in the beaten field.

SAM gathered up his blanket; he had thrown it on the ground in his excitement. "Looks like we win sure, Miss Sherry," he said, hopefully, as they walked toward the finish point.

As Sherry and her groom reached the track, horses were jogging back to the finish line—jockeys were dismounting, taking off saddles and weighing out. The beaten ones were always first back. Generally the winner took a couple of furlongs to slow down and stop in. Today it seemed as if Pepper Boy would never stop, but he did at last. There he was at the head of the backstretch. Sherry crossed the track with Sam, then the groom went out to meet the colt. Madden didn't stop among the other horses, he rode straight for the winner's circle—then reined in abruptly as a shout went up from the stands and a guard waved him back.

The winner's number was going up at last, and the winner was—Gray Star.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, April 28—A survey of private opinion within officialdom suggests there is little this government can reasonably and justly do now in the further development of its pro-alied neutrality policy.

In the wake of public shock over the German-allyed conflict in Norway and in anticipation of now threatened widening of the war, the administration appears to be re-examining its policy. It seems to be searching for further steps "short of war," or even—as some of its indirect agents have suggested—perhaps eventual naval and air strides to aid the allies.

But, whatever blind sentimentality or cloud-topped emotionalism may be inspiring the public argument on the same question, the inclination of most officials is to collect sound and cold evidence and weigh it carefully. Contributions to the current debate as privately collected from these best informed official minds follow:

Aside from the obvious human, economic and financial disasters which stronger American steps might bring, the allies could get little military benefit from United States involvement in their present situation. No calls for help from them have yet been heard here. Their current military problem is not a scarcity of men or even of materials but effective organization to bring into play the idle forces they are not now able to use.

The only formidable naval contribution the United States could offer at present would be the dispatch of mine layers to further blockade work and perhaps some Atlantic cruisers and destroyers to extend the convoy system. The bulk of the U. S. fleet could not be moved from the Pacific either in the interest of the allies or of us.

Repeat of the neutrality act and use of American commercial ships would be a natural consequence of direct involvement, but the allies do not need ships. They are not now using all they have.

American plane production, now running upon one or two shifts, could be doubled with three shifts, but what use the allies could make of them in their present situation is not apparent. No munitions could be furnished because this country has no munitions industries of any international consequence.

On the other hand, involvement would be immediately ruinous to the good neighbor policy and the development of Latin American trade. It would throw Hull's years of work out the window.

The United States, with its defenses intact, has no reason to fear invasion or bombing from Hitler in the conceivable future, but a German victory today would certainly bring swift trade difficulties for us on this continent. The British and Americans have been trading in South America like two grocery stores in the same block. A German victory today would be like a chain store moving in. It is quite conceivable, for instance, that the nazis would take the entire Argentine beef production from the British, become Mexico's best customer for oil, and thus get her big foot in the door.

Reasoning this way, in their re-examination, many an official is confirming his conviction that an allied victory is certainly to the best interests of the United States.

This line of thinking seems to be bringing them back into the field of "steps short of war."

Foremost formidable contribution which could be considered in this line is naturally credits. But the allies do not now need credits. Their billions of resources in gold and securities have hardly been denied. Their strongbox will not run low for perhaps two years, according to common current calculations.

Slim remaining restrictions upon American military secrets would offer another step. Our valued bombsights and superchargers would be free for allied production abroad. Such a step is within the realm of early possibilities.

Economic sanctions would be imposed against Germany. This government could take control of exports to aid the blockade, but this would be a direct belligerent step, in the face of the fact that little American goods are now getting into Germany through indirect restraints already instituted.

German property could be seized. Latin countries could be encouraged to do likewise. Far East policy could be directed toward keeping the Japanese out of British and French territory there. But all these are steps so short of war as to be almost indistinguishable from the final step itself.

son has been largely the result of this factor.

What we are witnessing now is a concrete demonstration—the first comprehensive test of its kind—of what a powerful and well-handled air navy means to modern warfare.

It is important to remember that the nazis had their surface navy rendered virtually impotent in the battles at the beginning of the invasion and were deprived to a large extent of the use of the sea for communications with Norway.

Save for the great air force the contest would have ended there. The nazis made a virtue of their necessity, however, and threw their dependence on the flying force, or maybe they would have done this in any event. Acting with the speed which is one of the outstanding characteristics of the German military operations, they seized all the north-west air ports of Norway, thus hamstringing the allies for the moment.

As the result of this advantage the Germans have been able to move thousands of badly-needed reinforcements by air transport, the allies being unable to stop this because of the excessive flying distance from Britain and France. Not only that, but the nazis also have flown equipment and supplies even artillery into Norway, and they have harassed the allies in their landing operations.

However, the Anglo-French brotherhood have continued to land forces above and below the line, and finally have been able to establish some sort of air ports from which to operate. The creation of landing fields is an achievement of great moment and one which should stiffen the allied push immediately. A great increase in this form of their expeditionary force is vital, however, and it will have to be achieved quickly.

As regards the race for Trondheim, the nazis are holding the city itself but thus far have been unable to reach it with columns of troops which are driving northward from the Oslo region through the snow-filled valleys and rugged passes.

The allies have been landing their expeditionary forces at Namsos, 85 miles northeast of Trondheim, and at Andalsnes, 100 miles southwest of Trondheim. From Namsos and Andalsnes, allied columns are swinging southwest and northeast respectively with the object of ensuring control of the strategic railway between Trondheim and Dombas, intercepting the nazi columns from the south, and finally assaulting Trondheim itself.

The Germans this morning were reported to have reached the railroad above Dombas with a column. A battle appeared developing. A nazi success here would be a hard blow for the allies as it would prevent a union of the two sections of the expeditionary force.

If you will glance at your maps you will get an impression of the not at all complicated picture of the operations. You will see that the railway running south from Trondheim divides about 10 miles below the port and continues its course in two tortuous lines which pass through more or less parallel valleys lying between the snow-capped ranges. It is up these two grim gashes that the nazi columns are struggling towards Trondheim.

Thus it is apparent that the conflict has developed into a hot race between the combatants to see which will reach Trondheim first. And this is likely to be one of the great military races of history, for possession of Norway likely depends on it in major degree.

Clubs

Crusaders — Approximately 400 members of the local chapter of the Chiropactic Crusaders turned out Friday evening for the regular monthly meeting which was held in the Moose hall.

The entertainment, which consisted of an international group, was provided by the Crusaders Artists' Bureau and the enthusiastic reception given these artists was a tribute to their talents. The National Chiropactic Crusaders is of a special interest to this community since it was inspired and created by the local chapter and Dr. S. Chandler Bend of this city, who is now the national president of this organization and the founder of the Artists' Bureau. The mixed quartet consisting of Victor Loofborrow of Wisconsin, alto; Esther Pecore of Wisconsin, soprano; Eileen Lucas of Ohio, soprano; and Roland Lucas of Ohio, bass, gave a fine recital, their numbers being interspersed between the other three features. Shiek Mar Elia gave an interesting talk on Persia and showed some samples of Persian rugs which were a part of his private collection. Edward Schwing delighted both young and old with his magic, interspersing his acts with interesting comments on his native land, France. S. G. Joshi, a native of Penang, and an outstanding lecturer, gave his interesting talk on his voyage to America from Bombay. The highlight of this boat trip occurred when his ship Countess De Savoy helped to rescue part of the passengers of the Italian excursion boat that burned in the Mediterranean. The graphic eye witness account of this tragedy at sea was so timely because of the many tragic examples we now hear of due to the war.

The artists who gave this program were treated to a banquet preceding the evening's entertainment. Miss Eva Noble, a very capable caterer, having charge of this function and the guests were warm in their praise of her culinary art. The foreign guests arrived in Dixon in time to tour the city and were struck by the unique beauty of the Rock river valley and of the city itself.

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT

Following a special meeting of the board of education tonight, the long-discussed issue of the lighted athletic field will be concluded. Heading the group which was as energetic as that of Thomas E. Dewey working for the presidential nomination, Paul deserves a great deal of credit for the manner in which he has campaigned for the lighted field and all groups of the citizens' committee have expressed their appreciation to the board of education for the permission to sit with them and work on the project.

DODGERS' WINNING STREAK IS WARNING TO WESTERNERS

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
A baseball whirlwind that was stirred up in Brooklyn and has swept ruthlessly through the east will strike toward the western clubs of the National League today—and whether it is just a zephyr or an honest-to-goodness cyclone should be known in short order.

The Dodgers have won eight straight games for the best winning streak at the start of the season that any major league club has had since 1918, when the New York Giants won their first nine.

That ought to be enough warning to make the western clubs get their storm cellars ready. Some of the more ardent Brooklyn fans think it might make the westerners jump right in and bar the door, but the truth is Brooklyn has never been a good road team.

Sometimes it hasn't been a good team at home, either, but last year when it finished third in its league it lost 42 and won only 33 away from home and its record for the first trip around the western circuit was six (straight) lost, two won and one tied.

The Dodgers may be pennant prospects and they are if they can win or even break even against the western clubs. They certainly have no opposition in the east.

Giants Subdued

They subdued the New York Giants, 5-3, yesterday before a hoisting, cheering crowd of 51,695 in the Polo Grounds with a two-run homer by Dolph Camilli in the ninth inning turning the trick. Whit Wyatt was given spectacular support afield and the Giants had 10 runners stranded to offset their outthrusting the Dodgers, 10-8.

Young Gene Thompson chucked a five-hitter at the Pittsburgh Pirates and Ernie Lombardi hit a homer and three singles for a perfect day at bat as the Cincinnati Reds triumphed, 8-2. Altogether the National League champions collected 15 hits.

The St. Louis Cardinals finally showed some of the power which made the contenders a year ago and tripped the Chicago Cubs, 7-5. Joe Medwick hit a home run and two doubles, John Mize and Don Gutteridge hit homers and Don Padgett got two doubles. Even so the Cards had to use two pitchers, with Clyde Shoun getting credit for the victory on four innings of shutout hurling.

Bees Trim Phillies

The Boston Bees broke into the win column at last with a 3-2 squeeze past the Phillies on a smart seven-hit pitching performance by Lefty Joe Sullivan.

The pace-making Cleveland Indians of the American League withstood a challenge by the Detroit Tigers and won, 11-9, in the tenth inning on Hal Trosky's two-run circuit clout. It was a wild battle, with nine pitchers seeing service and Barney McCosky hitting two home runs for the Tigers, including one with two on in the midst of a six-run ninth-inning rally that tied the score.

There were two other overtime games in the American League Sunday, the Boston Red Sox being forced 12 innings to nose out the Philadelphia Athletics, 5-4, after taking a three-run lead in the first frame. A home run by Jim Tabor was the eventual payoff.

The Washington Senators handed the New York Yankees their third straight defeat, 3-2, when Gee Walker singled against George Case in the tenth, Dutch Leonard, the Knucklebagger who beat the champions the first four times he faced them last year, spaced six hits in going the rout. The Nats could do no better off Steve Sundra and Johnny Murphy.

The St. Louis Browns piled up 17 hits, including a three-run homer by Walt Judnich, in beating the Chicago White Sox, 11-8.

Sterling Defends Title in Whiteside County Meet On Saturday

As the barometer fell this morning, so fell the prospects for the Dixon-Rock Falls track meet which was to have been held here this afternoon. Due to the inclement weather and the "battering" which the Rockets took in the Whiteside county meet Saturday, the Dukes will not be hosts to Rock Falls until May 1.

Having tripped Polo and Franklin Grove in the debut last week before going on to score an impressive victory over Freeport, the Dixon Dukes' next event will be the meet here with Rochelle on Wednesday afternoon.

Sterling Township successfully defended its Whiteside county championship in the fifth annual meet Saturday by scoring 69½ points.

Morrison was second with 31, Rock Falls third with 24 1-3, Erie had 7 1-3, Fulton 5½ and Prophetstown 5.

DERBY ENTRIES FALLING OFF IN FACE OF STORM SIGNALS FLASHED BY FAVORED 'BIMEY'

Louisville, Ky., April 29.—(AP)—In face of storm signals flashed by Bimelech, the likely starting field in next Saturday's 66th running of the Kentucky Derby continued today dropping like a barometer just before a hurricane.

Announcement in New York that Mrs. Payne Whitney's Red Dots, which finished second to Dit Saturday in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica, would not compete because of an injured heel, eliminated one of the few derby eligibles hardbreds figured a probable starter.

Devil's Crag, third in the wood, also was declared out by a filled leg.

Arnold Hanger's Dit, against advice of Trainer Max Hirsch, was en route to Churchill Downs from the east to contest Col. E. R. Bradley's ace—and the "People's Choice"—in the $75,000 added 3-year-old classic.

Hirsch explained he thought running Dit in three big races in as many weeks would be too hard on the gelding. He is entered in the Preakness next week.

Expect 12 In Field

The most optimistic guessers predicted that the field would approximate 12 (three were 127 nominated), but others, in face of numerous eliminations in the past several days, said six to eight would be a closer figure.

These are considered strong starting possibilities, in addition to Bimelech and Dit: Midland, Pictor, Roman, Sirocco, Gallahad, Royal Man, Insolad and Sky Dog or Gallant Dream, Connaught and Black Brummel are long possibilities. There may be one or two starters from the remainder of the list.

Some of the more highly-regarded candidates may be declared out after tomorrow's one-mile derby trial, in which "Bimey" si entered. On the other hand, should the winterbook favorite be upset, there might be a rush to the entry window.

WESTERN TEACHERS MAKE BASEBALL DEBUT TODAY

Bloomington, Ill., April 29.—Western Illinois Teachers will make their much-delayed debut in the Illinois intercollegiate conference baseball campaign today in a game with Northern Illinois Teachers at DeKalb.

The Macomb nine, whose conference opener was rained out twice, hoped to knock northern out of a first-place tie in the inaugural.

Northern was idle in the league last week while Normal and Elmhurst moved into the top spot with them. Normal set back Eastern Teachers, 15 to 3, for its second win in three games and Elmhurst matched this record with a double-win over Eureka, 16 to 6 and 8 to 3.

In addition to today's game, Northern meets Elmhurst Wednesday and Eastern in a double-header Saturday. Eureka and Normal also meet twice, Tuesday at Normal and Thursday at Eureka.

The non-league schedule pits Eastern against Millikin today, Eastern against Chicago Teachers, Northern against Armour Tech and Normal against Iowa State Teachers Friday, and the next day Elmhurst against Wheaton and Normal against Iowa State Teachers again.

LEE BASEBALL TEAM BOWS TO MALTA, 2 TO 0

Malta's high school softball team went to Lee Friday afternoon and defeated the hosts in a 2 to 0 game. Although it was cold work playing the game, the teams put on a rapid-fire contest and first class exhibition of power.

C. Berg and Quincer of Malta came through with two base hits and E. Edwards of Lee collected one for the extra base clouts of the afternoon. C. Berg of Malta allowed two hits and struck out ten. V. Prestegard of Lee gave six hits with no strikeouts.

Tomorrow West Brooklyn plays at Malta and Wednesday Lee goes to Malta for a return game.

KNACKS TO MEET MILLEDGEVILLE IN OPENER HERE

Manager Hi Emmert is Impressed by Work of His Pitchers

Final arrangements have been completed and the Dixon baseball fans will get their first glimpse of the Knacks in action next Sunday afternoon when the home team entertains the Milledgeville club at Reynolds Field before breaking into league competition.

Yesterday afternoon the defending champions of the Illinois State League held their third practice session at the home lot and Manager Hi Emmert was enthusiastic about the prospects for his 1940 aggregation. Emmert's optimism centered around an improving pitching staff with such chuckers as Bob Kelsey of Mt. Morris, Chapman of Ashton and Ralph Cox of Dixon. Of these Kelsey did most of the hurling yesterday and looked like an inspired hurler who may well fill the shoes of Louie Bevilacqua with credit to the team.

A tentative lineup for next Sunday's debut would put Kelsey on the mound, Worth Windmiller behind the plate, Red Ellis at first sack, Bus Carlson at second, Harold Prestegard at third, Earl Flanagan at short stop and leave the outfield to three players from the list of Shires Miller, George Carlson, Roy Kuhn, Clark Hunt, Joe Curlee and Glenn Courtwright.

Working with the team as coach this season is Joe Miller who knows his baseball from A to Z and has an impressive pitching record to his credit.

The team took a few hours for batting practice yesterday afternoon with the contributed baseballs of Ward Miller.

The game next Sunday with Milledgeville will begin at 2 o'clock.

Alibis Given for Disappointing Mile at Relays

Philadelphia, April 29.—(AP)—Of all the reasons given for the disappointing 4:25.8 mile turned in by Walter Mehl, Chuck Fenske and Gene Venke for the feature event of the Penn Relays, that of Venke stood out today as the most unique.

Venke, who finished third in the race that brought boos instead of cheers from a record-breaking crowd, blamed his showing on—of all things—the strain of competing in a political race. His unsuccessful campaign for nomination for a seat in the state legislature in Pennsylvania's primary election last Tuesday hampered him in reaching top condition, Venke explained.

Fenske, expected to set a new relay record, said his shoes were too short while Mehl, his Wisconsin compatriot who finished first, complained that the spikes on his shoes were too long. All three said the track was too soft and pitted for faster running.

Record-breaking performances in four other track events offered some consolation to the crowd of 32,000 for the mile disappointment. Yale set up a new American standard of 1:09.8 for the 450-yard shuttle hurdle relay while North Texas Teachers quartet clipped a half-second from the half-mile time with a 1:25.4 sprint.

Incidentally, the open that year showed Guldahl as a pretty good prophet. Long before the shooting started, he said "I'll take 283 right now and never stir from the clubhouse."

He won it with 284, even par.

POLITICS

AP Reports Gossip Among Politicians in Washington

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

Washington, April 29—(AP)—Republican campaign tactics began crystallizing today with the arrival of Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota for conferences on his keynote speech to the party's national convention June 24.

The 33-year-old Stassen sought advice from party leaders in Congress on expressions concerning foreign affairs, labor, agriculture and other campaign issues.

Stassen came here as another week of convention delegate-picking got under way. Republicans will select 94 delegates this week to send their total to 528, or more than half the 1,000 total. Democrats will pick only 34 to raise their number to 292, a little more than a third of their 1,094 total.

Chief interest is centered on the Massachusetts presidential primary tomorrow, when 34 delegates each will be elected by the two parties.

On the Republican side there is an unpledged delegate slate headed by Governor Saltonstall. Senator Lodge and House Leader Martin. Another slate, filed by William H. Mcmasters, pension advocate, is pledged to Thomas E. Dewey without the latter's consent.

McMasters has charged the state Republican committee with bringing Dr. Francis E. Townsend, sponsor of the Townsend old age pension plan, into the state in an effort to "stop" Dewey.

Townsend declared that his group frowned on a statement attributed to Dewey favoring the Social Security Act.

In the Democratic Massachusetts primary, victory is forecast for a slate pledged to Postmaster General Farley but said by state leaders to be ready to support President Roosevelt if the latter runs.

"FAIRBANKS-MORSE Automatic Heat SAVED US $415

"We think we know something about automatic heating. We've tried all three kinds in our apartment buildings. Our first two experiments weren't so profitable. Now we are heating with Fairbanks-Morse Automatic Coal Burners. This stoker saved us $415 last year alone, as compared with our fuel costs of the year before." Fairbanks-Morse Automatic Coal Burners can be installed in the boilers you now have. Write or phone us for proof of maximum economy.

32 Lame Duckers in State Assembly for Last Session

Springfield, Ill., April 29—(AP)—Thirty-two of the state legislators who meet tomorrow for special session of the assembly will be in the lame duck class—they either were defeated for re-nomination to their seats in the House or Senate at the April 9 primary or did not run for another term.

This sizeable bloc of legislators who don't have to worry about the November election is in a position to yield some influence in the politically-important session.

Another complicating situation is the fact that neither Republicans nor Democrats will hold a constitutional majority of 77 in the House. Deaths have cut the Republican strength from 79 to 76 and the Democrats, who held 74 seats, have lost two members by death.

Six senators eligible for the special session can not return for the 1941 regular session. Two were defeated in their contests for re-nomination and four did not seek another term.

Senator Joseph E. Heckenkamp of Quincy lost the Democratic nomination in the 36th district to Lewis L. Boyer, Quincy, and Senator R. Wallace Karraker, Jonesboro, was defeated for the Democratic nomination in the 50th district by Rep. J. Will Howell of West Frankfort.

26 Will Leave House
In the House are 26 who won't be able to return in 1941, including seven who lost their campaigns for re-nomination. The others did not seek re-nomination. Six state representatives who sought nomination to other offices were defeated.

Those defeated for re-nomination were John Baumgarten (D-Rockford), defeated by Edward C. Hunter, Rockford; Stanley E. Martynowski (R-Chicago), defeated by E. P. Dukes, Chicago; Thomas J. Lenane (D-Quincy), defeated Roy Donohoo, Pearl; Raymond S. Richmond (D-Fillmore), defeated by Tim Donnelly, Carlinville; A. B. Lager (D-Carlinville), defeated by Miles E. Mills, Altamont; Schuyler V. Vaughn (R-Greenville), defeated by M. M. Mueller, Highland; Abner Field (R-Golconda), defeated by Arthur Van Hooser, Metropolis.

Other House members who sought nomination to other offices and were defeated were Drennan J. Slater, Evanston; Arnold L. Lund, Riverside; Benjamin S. Adamowski, Chicago; Lew Wallace, Mattoon; W. H. Owen, DuQuoin; Sidney Parker, Texico.

Pope Pius Receives 28 American Students

Vatican City, April 29—(AP)—Pope Pius XII received 28 students today who shortly will return to the United States after completion of their courses of study at the North American College in Rome. Bishop Ralph L. Hayes of the North American college presented them and afterwards was received privately by the pope. The students also were accompanied by the Very Rev. Allen J. Babcock of Detroit and the Very Rev. Monsignor Charles E. Fitzgerald of New York.

At one time the American flag had 15 stripes.

Relays Queen

Beloit, Wis.—After much deliberation, Dick Jurgens, nationally famous orchestra leader, selected Miss Polly Hegler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melville F. Hegler of Chicago, as the Queen for the Fourth Annual Beloit Relays.

Dick Jurgens received pictures of the seven candidates for the highest post at the Beloit Relays Monday and announced his choice last night. Miss Polly Hegler is a junior at Beloit college and very prominent in campus activities. She was recently elected president of the Delta Gamma sorority, and works on the college paper and year book. She is also a member of the Players, Beloit college's dramatic society, and the Shakespeare club. She is between a A and B student.

The candidates, whose pictures were sent to Dick Jurgens to be selected for Queen, were elected by members of their own class; two from the senior, junior, sophomore, and one from the freshman. The other members of the court are: Ruth Poff, Wakegan; Mary A. Wilson, Streator; Maybeth Hart, Springfield; Jean Gay, Streator; Lulu Belle Gaehner, Hartford, Conn.; and Lois Hagen, Janesville.

Miss Polly Hegler, as Queen, will receive the visiting athletes at the Relays on May 3rd. She will say a few words of welcome and officially open the fourth annual Beloit relays.

Movie Fans See Real Life Thriller Sunday

Chicago, April 29—(AP)—Homeward-bound movie fans were treated to a real life thriller yesterday as they watched a squad of detectives capture an alleged burglary suspect who used "human fly" tactics in a vain effort to elude the officers.

The suspect, identified by Sgt. Joseph Morrison as Russell Farago, 25, climbed up a 15-foot air shaft to the roof of a two-story building when the officers sought to question him in his apartment. He surrendered, however, after police fired several shots. He was clad only in his underwear.

Police said that Farago was one of three men seized in 1935 in the holdup-slitting of Mrs. Veronica de Cadestecker, owner of a tavern in East Moline, Ill. He later was released.

Fredonia, Ariz., is located 96 miles from the nearest railroad.

Showdown Near in Stelle vs. Horner Governorship Feud

Springfield, Ill., April 29—(AP)—Lieut. Gov. John Stelle's feud with the Horner administration neared a showdown today as he planned to meet with his unsuccessful primary running mates on the eve of the legislature's special session.

Democratic leaders looked to the conference of Stelle, State Rep. Benjamin S. Adamowski and State Auditor Edward J. Barrett for a clue as to whether the lieutenant governor intended to renew his claim to the acting governorship when the assembly meets tomorrow and push for a legislative investigation of ailing Governor Horner's condition.

A further test of Stelle's claim to executive power was awaited in another quarter. With the approach of the monthly pay period, Auditor Barrett must decide whether or not to issue a paycheck for Finance Director Samuel L. Nudelman.

One of Stelle's first "official" acts when he proclaimed himself acting governor on April 8 was to send a letter of dismissal to Director Nudelman, a bitter political enemy. Nudelman ignored the order and Barrett continued to honor the finance director's signature on expense vouchers despite Stelle's removal order.

By issuing Nudelman's monthly check, Barrett will be rejecting Stelle's claim to the acting governorship despite the fact that Barrett ran for re-nomination on the Stelle ticket. Barrett was defeated and Stelle lost his campaign for the Democratic governorship nomination to Harry B. Hershey, choice of the Horner-Kelly-Nash organization.

Horner Works on Message
Horner today was reported completing his message to the legislature but no word came from Lieut. Gov. Stelle as to whether he too planned to address a separate message to the legislators when they convene at noon Tuesday. Stelle issued a call for a special session after Horner issued his call but Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes disregarded the lieutenant governor's proclamation.

Stelle issued his call for the same date as Horner's proclamation. In setting up a claim to the acting governorship, Stelle asserted Horner was disabled by a 17-month illness.

Chief business before the legislature will be a proposal to increase old age assistance awards from a maximum of $10 a month to $40.

Horner headed his special session call with the old age pension proposal and Stelle did likewise. In addition, Stelle's call opened the way for additional relief fund appropriations and an investigation of the Democratic party's campaign fund collections from state employees.

Republicans to Caucus
Speaker Hugh W. Cross said a house delegation would pay the customary visit to Horner when the legislature convened. Some administration quarters reported Horner may come to his capitol office to receive the legislators. He has not visited the statehouse since early January.

Republican senators will caucus tonight to determine their stand should Stelle, who is presiding officer of the senate, seek a legislative investigation of the governor's health. At a caucus two weeks ago the senate Republicans were cool toward any proposal to investigate.

Senator Harold G. Ward of Chicago, the senate Democratic floor leader, predicted the senate would refuse to recognize Stelle's special session call.

Other principal subjects in both special session calls were proposals to amend the unemployment compensation law to remove the employers' tax on salaries over $3,000; a proposal to permit counties or cities to build self-liquidating coal processing plants; re-enactment of the Chicago sanitary district tax levy bill, which was repealed in a legislative mixup in the 1939 regular session.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Probation After Death" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 28.

The Golden Text was, "The Lord will perfect that which concerneth me: thy mercy, O Lord, endureth for ever: forsake not the works of thine own hands" (Psalms 138:5).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Now if Jesus preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead? If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable. But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept" (I Corinthians 15:12, 19, 20).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus' unchanged physical condition after what seemed to be death was followed by his exaltation above all material conditions; and this exaltation explained his ascension, and revealed unmistakably a probationary and progressive state beyond the grave. Jesus was 'the way'; that is, he marked the way for all men" (p. 46).

Councillors of U. S. C. C. Open Four Day Session Today

Washington, April 29—(AP)—Businessmen were asked by one of their number today "to concentrate in a practical way" on American problems, despite "the tragedy occurring throughout the world".

Advising against emergency "controls which take from us some of the liberty of a free people", John W. O'Leary told councillors of the United States Chamber of Commerce that "free enterprises and representative government are too vital to risk their loss".

O'Leary, chairman of the Chamber's executive committee, opened a four-day convention by offering a four-point program to guide the businessmen's attitude on legislative matters:

1. Economy in government—"That our taxes may not kill the goose that lays the golden egg; that our budget may some day be balanced".

2. Improved national defense—"That our nation may keep out of war by virtue of its own strength".

3. Restoration of teamwork between employers and employees—"that our productivity may increase and our national income and standard of living be advanced".

4. Employment—"That jobs may be found for those who are able and willing to work, through freeing of enterprise and of capital".
